Hello Community,

today I implemented a small but for some pretty handy feature. When pressing the Menu-Button in the Screen where you can choose the way you want to search for things, you can pop up a small dialog where you can directly enter the Latitude and Longitude of your destination.

This is of course available for Destination, Waypoints and Home-Location.

Maybe there are some geeks like me out there, so please let me know if you prefer hexa-decimal coordinates over decimal - or both? - In the comments 😊

Best Regards,
Nicolas
